

Tomizone is Global Alliance Program Partner for D-Link

D-Link signs Global Agreement with Tomizone

Auckland, 3 March 2009 – Tomizone, Australasia’s largest Wi-Fi service and global Wi-Fi Hotspot provider, announced today that it has signed D-Link’s Global Alliance Program agreement as a Solution Partner, marking another major milestone for the company’s ongoing expansion and growth.

D-Link is the global leader in IP and internet network connectivity for consumer and enterprise segments and this agreement will give those customers who use D-Link’s selected products access to the popular Tomizone service.

Steve Simms, CEO of Tomizone says that being appointed D-Link’s Solution Partner is a further proof point that Tomizone Wi-Fi services and technology is world-class.

“Tomizone-enabled D-Link product lines are very popular. We have had an impressive uptake of customers who have activated the Tomizone Hotspot function on their D-Link routers to facilitate the monetizing of their broadband, and this has been a pivotal part of our recent expansion.

“This agreement allows Tomizone some exclusive partner access within D-Link’s global networks and from that same platform Tomizone will benefit from their global sales and distribution,” says Simms.

“This alliance is a perfect fit for D-Link and Tomizone and secures a powerful opportunity for both parties to deliver more values to customers,” said Tony Tsao, CEO & President of D-Link Corporation. “Our customers have been increasingly looking for a simple wireless solution to their broadband connection. The cooperation with Tomizone not only enriches D-Link router products but also benefits our customers from enjoying and securely sharing the broadband connection.”

This agreement gives added impetus to Tomizone’s international expansion programmes in India and China.
